

Store security camera solution

Efficient view of recorded video and POS journal data with inquiry condition

Features

- Search the electronic POS journal and check video for the corresponding operation.
- Investigate the cause if register balances mismatch or cash exchanges are disputed, and curb such occurrences.
- Accessed from head office to give instruction in operation or presentation.

Overview

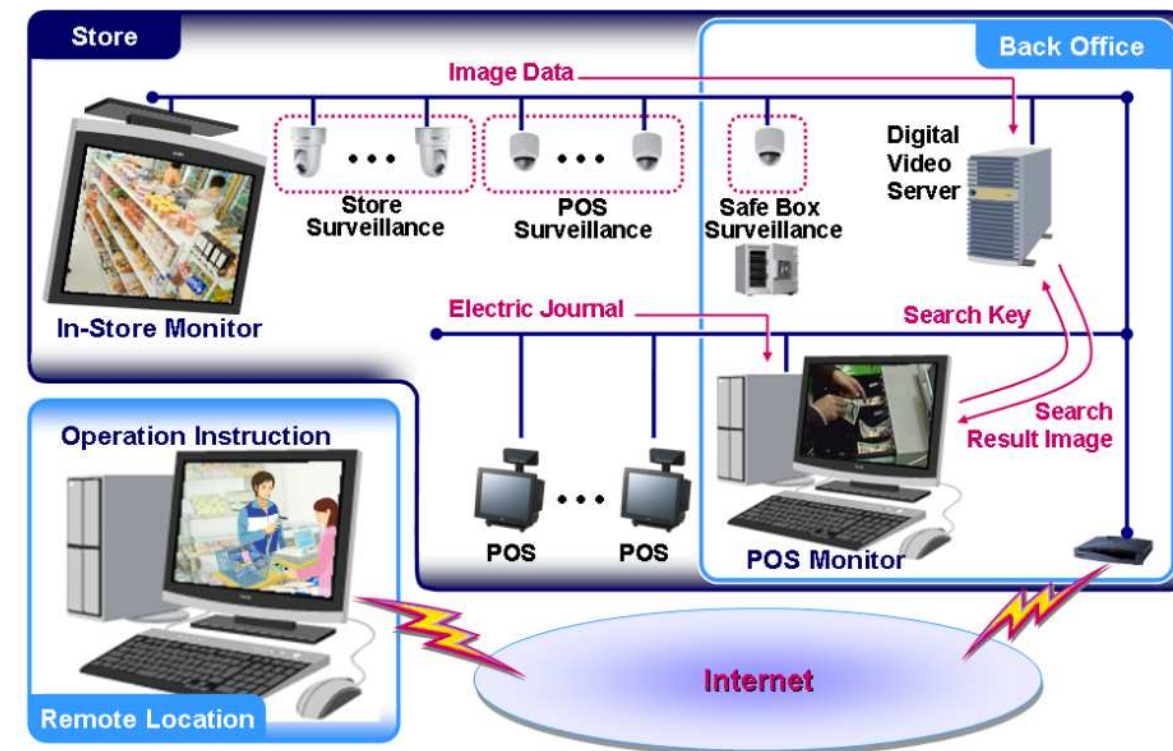

- The number of retail outlets installing security cameras to record staff activity and customer service is increasing. However, a large amount of time is required to review and playback recorded video of a particular scene, so this recorded video data is not being used effectively. With this solution, the POS electronic journal data can be searched by time or specific operation, and the relevant sections of video can be checked in sequence.
- In addition to the POS monitoring camera, various other security cameras are being installed in stores and in the back office. By integrating storage of in-store video all on one video server, the content can be accessed effectively from the central office as well as the store itself.

Advantages

- Allows the video recorded with security cameras to be used more effectively.
- The relevant scene can be retrieved immediately if there is a disagreement regarding cash tendered.
- Video of scenes where incorrect operation or other problems may have occurred can be checked in a small amount of time.
- Video of any questionable operations can easily be checked, deterring employees from improper behavior.
- Conditions in the store can be checked remotely, and instruction in operation or presentation can be given from the head office.
